Here are a few of us, John, Pat, Deva and Barbara. Jo, in the second picture, is holding up the Cretan Labrys, or double axe, symbol of the beginning of creation. Deva channeled the living Aphrodite when we called on her, and she was dynamite! So graceful and gentle. The third pic is a small statue of Aphrodite emerging from a sea form created by John. Twenty four dancing celebrants; a good time was had by all.

